My Color Analysis

Colors are not only used to be appealing to the eye, but they can be used as symbols to represent certain events in life or emotions.

Turquoise
Turquoise is an in between color of green and blue. This can give off a sophisticated look. The color is often linked to balance and stability.

Purple
Purple is a warm and cool color. Purple is usually used to represent royalty, mobility, and can boost imagination.

Red
Red is a hot color. It is commonly use to portray anger or love. Red can grab someone's attention, which is why it often indicates danger.

Blue
Calming and Natural.
Blue is often used to be light and friendly, but can also be used to signify strength in using deeper shades.

Yellow
Yellow is sunshine. Gives of the emotions happiness and joy, but also cowardice and deceit.

As you can see, each color is different and has different effects when being used. Some colors complement each other while others can clash.